

48 Instagrammable Hours in Lisbon - Mary Tolaro Noyes

Lisbon, the beautiful capital of Portugal, is known for its colorful tiled buildings, breathtaking views, and vibrant culture. With its combination of historical landmarks and modern attractions, it has become a favorite destination for Instagram enthusiasts looking to capture the perfect shot. In this article, we will explore the top Instagrammable spots in Lisbon and provide a guide for spending 48 hours exploring the city through the lens of Mary Tolaro Noyes.

Day 1:

Start your first day by heading to Belém, a district known for its historical monuments and river views. Take a picture in front of the iconic Belém Tower, a stunning fortress that once served as a gateway to the city. Its intricate design and location by the Tagus River make it the perfect photo backdrop.

After capturing the beauty of Belém Tower, make your way to the nearby Padrão dos Descobrimentos, a monument honoring Portugal's Age of Discovery. The monument's unique architecture and panoramic view of the river make it a must-visit spot for Instagrammers. Frame your shot to include both the monument and the Ponte 25 de Abril Bridge in the background.

For lunch, head over to LX Factory, a trendy artsy complex housed in an old industrial area. This former factory has been transformed into a hipster paradise, complete with colorful street art, trendy cafes, and quirky shops. Capture the vibrant atmosphere and unique artwork for your Instagram feed.

In the afternoon, make your way to Alfama, Lisbon's oldest neighborhood. Get lost in the narrow streets lined with colorful houses, traditional fado music venues, and quaint cafes. Capture the charm and authenticity of this neighborhood by strolling through its picturesque alleyways and snapping photos of the traditional azulejo tiles.

End your day with a visit to Miradouro da Senhora do Monte, one of Lisbon's most stunning viewpoints. This elevated spot offers panoramic views of the city, including the red rooftops and the Tagus River. Get there just before sunset to witness the sky turning golden and capture an Instagram-worthy shot.

Day 2:

Start your second day by exploring the vibrant neighborhoods of Bairro Alto and Chiado. These trendy districts are known for their lively atmosphere, charming streets, and Instagrammable spots.

Begin by visiting the Livraria Bertrand, the oldest bookstore in the world. Its beautiful facade and vintage interior make it a popular spot for bookworms and Instagrammers alike. Snap a shot of the grand entrance or browse through the vast collection of books for a cozy photo opportunity.

Continue your journey by heading to the colorful streets of Bairro Alto. This bohemian neighborhood is filled with vibrant street art, eclectic shops, and charming cafes. Don't miss Rua da Bica, a famous street known for its iconic yellow tram and colorful houses. Capture the energy and creativity of Bairro Alto through your lens.

Next, make your way to LX Factory's neighbor, Village Underground Lisboa. This unique cultural space consists of repurposed shipping containers and double-decker buses turned into creative offices and event spaces. The industrial aesthetic and vibrant street art make it a perfect backdrop for your Instagram shots.

For a touch of history and charm, head to the district of Mouraria. This multicultural neighborhood is known for its narrow streets, colorful doors, and traditional azulejo tiles. Explore the hidden corners and capture the authentic atmosphere of this neighborhood.

End your 48-hour exploration of Lisbon at LX Factory's crowning jewel, Rio Maravilha. This rooftop bar offers stunning views of the city skyline, particularly at sunset. Sip on a refreshing cocktail while you capture the magical colors painting the sky and the city below.

Lisbon is a city that offers endless opportunities for Instagram-worthy photos. From historical landmarks to vibrant neighborhoods and stunning viewpoints, every corner of the city is a potential backdrop for your feed. Follow in the footsteps of Mary Tolaro Noyes and embark on a 48-hour journey through Lisbon, capturing its beauty one photo at a time.
