A Unique Approach

At the heart of a horse farm, lies an opportunity to create a community that fosters spiritual growth and encourages individuals to develop a deeper connection with God. The owners of such farms have taken a unique approach by utilizing the beauty of these animals to engage with people on a spiritual level.

By offering free horseback rides to visitors, the horse farm serves as a welcoming space for individuals from all walks of life. As people embark on these rides, they are surrounded by the peacefulness of nature, allowing them to open up and reflect on their spiritual journey.

Equine-Assisted Therapy

In addition to offering horseback rides, some horse farms have also integrated equine-assisted therapy as a means to share faith and provide emotional healing. This unique form of therapy involves interactions between humans and horses, fostering personal growth and spiritual connection.

Horses have an innate ability to sense human emotions and respond in a gentle and non-judgmental manner. Through equine-assisted therapy, individuals can learn valuable life lessons, discover inner strengths, and address emotional wounds that may hinder their spiritual journey.

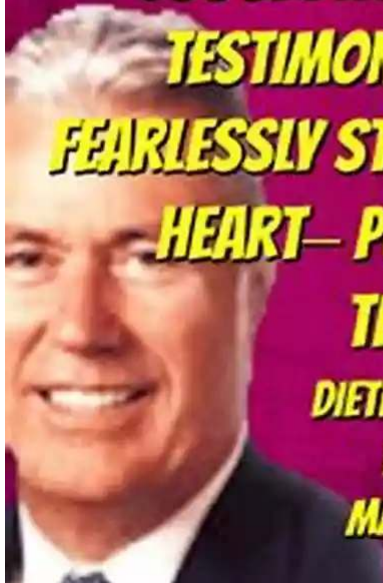

Building Relationships and Community

Sharing faith from a horse farm goes beyond individual interactions; it also involves building relationships and creating a sense of community. Many horse farms organize events, such as Bible studies, worship services, and prayer circles, to bring people together in an environment that nurtures both their love for horses and their faith in God.

Additionally, horse farms often collaborate with local churches, schools, and nonprofit organizations to extend their outreach efforts. By hosting open houses, charity events, or educational programs, these farms actively engage with the broader community, spreading the message of faith and love.

From her horse farm in Nebraska, Cara Whitney--wife of Dan Whitney (aka "Larry the Cable Guy")--shares down-to-earth stories about how ordinary people can share their faith in extraordinary ways.

In the midst of uncertain and sometimes frightening times, sharing God's love with others gives us hope and purpose. With her humorous and often touching stories--many featuring horses, cows, and rascally dogs--Cara Whitney delightfully reminds us that it's always a good time to share the love of Jesus with your neighbor.

In Fields of Grace, Cara passes on lessons from her amazing animal teachers, such as . . .

- What a barnyard horse brawl shows us about how God uses us in our weaknesses
- How caring for baby calves teaches us the value of letting go
- Why a carriage-pulling pack horse motivates us to be our best selves
- How a dance class inspires us to embrace our identity in Christ
- What a floppy-eared dog tells us about loving our neighbor

With Scripture verses, beautiful photography from the American heartland, and a ribbon marker for finding your place, Fields of Grace is a gorgeous gift for:

- Readers of Cara's previous book, Unbridled Faith
- Fans of Larry the Cable Guy
- Anyone fascinated by the "simpler life" of farming in rural America
- Animal lovers and photography lovers
- Spiritual seekers interested in a gentle approach to learning more about God

These charming yet powerful stories encourage us to care for others as we grow in our own spiritual journeys. No matter what times we live in, the love of Christ can transform lives--and help each of us to draw closer to Him.
